

Catholic schools join

When the 1971-72 school year begins next September, Sacred Heart High, an all-girls school, of Mokena, will become a part of Providence High School at New Lenox. Providence High School had its beginning in Joliet as a girls' school, but is now co-educational.

Announcement of the merger was made by the heads of the two institutions, the Rev. Roger L. Kaffer, principal of Providence, and Sister Timothy Marie Flaherty, superior of the Franciscan Order of the Sacred Heart, which has been operating Sacred Heart High School.

A year ago, Providence was battling to stay alive.

It and some other Catholic Schools were having financial problems. A recommendation had been made that Providence, along with some other schools, be closed.

However, parents of Providence students and the students themselves, worked and kept the school alive. It is now doing well, according to Father Kaffer. The merger of Providence with Sacred Heart is expected to strengthen both schools, according to school spokesmen. The Franciscan Sisters have been supporting Sacred Heart and the burden has been increasing yearly.

The merger will see Providence serving as the learning center. No decision has yet been made as to what is to be done with the Sacred Heart building, which was erected in 1964. The school had its beginning in 1954 in a smaller building.

Sister Timothy Marie wrote the parents of students prior to announcement of the merger to acquaint them with conditions. Last Thursday night Father Kaffer met with the Sacred Heart parents and earlier that day he talked with the students at the school.

The governing board of the Franciscan Sisters summed up the reasons for the merger:

Substantial financial help is needed if the school is to continue.

The inconceivability of asking the order to continue contributing sisters services in addition to monetary help. Previously, it had been announced the order had to pay $25,000 in salaries for lay teachers but was not reimbursed for the sister faculty, also no money was allocated for a depreciation fund. Continued operation of the school would place additional financial burdens on parents, which could have an adverse effect on enrollment, which in turn would increase the per pupil cost of operating the school.

The original intention of the order in opening the high school to lay students was to provide a quality Catholic education for a minimum tuition for the benefit of all economic classes.

Sacred Heart, however, can no longer offer its facilities at a lower tuition than other Catholic high schools, the sisters questioned continued subsidization of an apostolate serving chiefly the more affluent. In addition paying the present $300 tuition, parents are paying $180 for bus transportation. Even with this, the school had to absorb $10,000 of the transportation costs.

The feasibility of an all-girls school so far removed from its counterpart, an all-boys school, was taken into consideration. Considering educational trends today, the sisters had asked themselves: Can we expect to increase or even maintain enrollment? The board found that in answering these questions the only solution was to merge with Providence High School. Said Father Kaffer:

"Providence is booming! Only recently we announced plans for additional courses in social studies, speech and drama, music, business, education, industrial arts (in cooperation with the public schools,) college credit offerings for better students, addition of a language lab, permanent Little Theater, wrestling, girls basketball, baseball and track, as well as landscaping and additional bus service."

Concerning bus service Father Kaffer said plans are being made for transportation covering Prestwick and Hampton Park.

The school already has buses serving Tinley Park.

Trustees split on utility bills

ROMEDEVILLE — All was not calm at the Romeoville village board meeting on Dec. 16. Trustees were wide apart in their opinions on Alexander Utility Company bills.

A contract exists between Alexander and the village, whereby the village receives 10 percent of all collections, and the utility retains all late charges.

Jerry Capps, acting mayor protem in the absence of Mayor John O'Hara, asked Duane Rosendahl if the water department had reached a decision on the retention of late charges by the village. Rosendahl said his committee had not had a meeting. Capps moved that Alexander be notified that all late charges will be retained by the village.

Trustee John Veeninga directed Capps attention to the fact that the village has a contract with Alexander. Capps said "either party may cancel the contract on 60 day notice."

Capps based his reasoning of retaining late charges on the fact that the village does all the work, and is entitled to keep the late charges because of additional paper work. Trustee John Veeninga reminded Capps, "there are more ramifications than you are considering." Veeninga expressed his concern in regard to pending negotiations on purchasing the utility. He said, "We are negotiating with Alexander for the utility, and I don't see what we can gain by causing hard feelings."

Capps said "Alexander is a very intelligent businessman who builds a quality home, and I don't think he will refuse our offer." Capps asked that a revised contract be sent to Alexander and said "the next move is up to him."

Harry Betzel, trustee, when questioned by trustees, reported that no decision has been reached on the request by Resurrection cemetery directors to use the driveway on the side of the Civic Center for an exit from the cemetery. The road would be built on cemetery property and connect with the village drive.

Betzel said two members of a three man committee were against the project for safety reasons. Police Chief Fred Hayes said, "In my opinion it would create a traffic hazard and interfere with any emergency situations that might arise." Len Kolpacki, trustee, said he felt they were "imposing an unnecessary hardship in refusing permission." Trustees voted to hold a meeting with cemetery officials to draw up plans for the work.

William Bessette, Jerry Capps and Len Kolpacki were appointed to a committee to investigate insurance benefits for village employees.

WARM TOES

This young lady could use new socks as well as shoes, but employees of Illinois Bell Telephone Co. are making sure she'll at least have new shoes this winter. The company employees donated to a fund to purchase shoes for youngsters who needed them. They also organized shopping expeditions to make the final selections. These shoes are being fitted at Peter's Shoe Store, Lockport.

Homer Marquis raises a point of order in the heated debate which took place at Thursday night's meeting of the District 205 school board. Marquis is a member of the Concerned Parents' Committee which objected to the use of the John Knowles novel, "A Separate Peace," in the public schools.

'Peace' war continues

LOCKPORT — At an informal meeting Thursday evening, the District 205 school board heard discussion on both sides of an issue involving the use of the book "A Separate Peace" by John Knowles in the public schools.

The book, viewed as "degenerating" and "degrading literature" by the ad hoc Concerned Parents' Committee, was distributed free of charge in sophomore English classes as a supplement to the regular texts.

The committee objected to the novel on both moral and political grounds. George Taylor contended that language used in the book was not suitable for use in high school-level courses. Homer Marquis mentioned a passage which alluded to homosexuality and expressed concern over the effect of this type of material upon "tender minds that are very easily persuaded."

Some parents also objected to what they called "un-American political themes" in the book. Charles Urban said portions of the novel help to "subtly plant in our students the seeds of rebellion against authority." He urged that other literature be selected that "gives the conservative side and the love-America side and stresses obedience to constituted authority."

The committee requested that advance notice of literature to be used be given to parents so the adults could determine its suitability for their own children. Arrangements then could be made to replace objectionable material with other literature approved by both the parents and the educators.

Joe Kovach spoke in favor of the Knowles book. He said he couldn't understand how anyone who had read "A Separate Peace" could term the book vulgar or totalitarian. He noted that the book had received wide critical acclaim as a "moving and sensitive book dealing with two teen-age boys." As to the language, Kovach's only comment was, "Big deal."

Martin Hankins, principal of Lockport East High School, explained that he had asked the objecting parents to confer with school authorities about the matter and that such a conference had occurred by telephone.

The teachers were instructed to inform their students that the youngsters did not have to read the novel but could select other literature from the library. Hankins presented letters and critiques from public libraries, school libraries and professional journals praising the social and literary merit of the Knowles book.

School Supt. Lloyd Harrell closed the meeting by stating his intention to recommend a policy at the next official meeting of the board that would protect the students' right to read controversial material in an atmosphere free from biases, the parents' right to protect their children from objectionable material, and the educators' right to select material for study. The next official meeting of the District 205 board is scheduled for Jan. 14.

The discussion of the Knowles book was followed by a study session concerning a cooperative education Program that may be instituted in the Lockport area in the future. The Program, designed for students not planning to continue their education beyond the high school level, would provide skilled training in selected occupations by community employers and related in-class instruction for interested high school students.

Buying water works

NEW LENOX--When the village board meets Jan. 6 it is expected to wind up the formalities connected with the purchase of the water works now serving a portion of New Lenox.

The village is purchasing the three wells and mains serving 340 homes in the south end of the community, owned by the Illinois Municipal Water Co., for $130,000.

The board has found buyers for revenue bonds in sufficient number to make the purchase. The bonds will be retired through the water rates. The board will meet with its engineers and representatives of the bond holders to establish a rate for the service.

Eventually, the village will expand its water system to include the entire village. There are 650 residents who now get their water supply from private wells. At its meeting last week, the board voted to participate in the study of the Water Resources Committee, sanctioned by Will and Grundy county municipalities, on long range water needs. This program calls for impounding waters of the Kankakee River. New Lenox will contribute its share of the undertaking, not to exceed $2,000. Mayor Joseph Hartung said it was expected the contribution would be about $1,500.

Action on an ordinance banning the burning of leaves was deferred.

The board announced bids will be taken on a 200-foot extension of the sewer main to reach the Wajchert subdivided property on North Cooper. The state has approved the extension.

The board approved a contract with Michael Oil Co., to supply gasoline for village vehicles. There were three bids submitted. Michael's was 26.9 cents a gallon; Lincoln-Way Mobil, 27 cents and Clark Oil, 31.9. An official zoning map was adopted.

After adjournment, the board viewed a movie explaining the workings of the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund. The board plans to study some other plans dealing with retirement.

Set holiday hours

FRANKFORT — The village offices will close at noon this Thursday and remain closed until the Monday following Christmas, Dec. 28, when they will be open for business again. The same procedures will be followed for the New Year holiday. The offices will close at noon, Thursday, Dec. 31, and not open again until the following Monday, Jan. 4.

Peter Kluge, an active 80

Peter Kluge, 80, of 600 Illinois St., Lemont, became an octogenarian last month. Nov. 22 marked his 59th year of business in Lemont.

Kluge operates the Lemont Garment Co., formerly the Lemont Pants Co., 310 Illinois St.

He says he remembers the year 1908, when employees were paid $3 per week. In 1911 employees could make as much as $5 a week for a 60-hour period.

Kluge was educated in Lemont schools. He studied business at Loyola University and is a member of the National Society of Cost Accountants. He operates an accounting service, Kluge Tax and Bookkeeping Service, at his plant.

Active in community affairs, he has served 19 years as a member of the Lemont high school board in the positions of president and secretary and served as a village trustee for eight years. He is president of the White Eagle Social Club, which he helped to organize, served as president of the Lemont Chamber of Commerce for 1958, 1964 and 1965 and is now treasurer; is president of Council 11 of the Polish National Alliance, Joliet, and president of its branch 465, Lemont.

He has served as an election judge for 25 years. He is a lifetime member of SS. Cyril and Methodius Church, having served as an usher for several years, and is still active in parish affairs.

He has worked on hospital fund drives in the Lemont area for St. Joseph and Silver Cross hospitals under the Joliet Regional Hospital Fund.

His birthday was marked with a dinner attended by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Slaboszewski, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kluge, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kluge, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Slaboszewski, Mr. and Mrs. Keny Hakey and their daughter Traci, Mrs. Barbara Powers and her daughter Rhonda, Debbie Kluga and Joseph Gonzalez.

Mokena, Lockport, Lemont, Wilmington, Manhattan, New Lenox and Joliet. The school will now explore interest in bus routes to Midlothian, Oak Forest, Palos Park, Palos Heights and Orland Park, Father Kaffer said.

Much equipment, including the contents of the library, is expected to be moved from Sacred Heart to Providence.

Enrollment at Sacred Heart this year is 242, while that of Providence is 487. Tuition at Sacred Heart is $300, but parents were notified recently that this would be increased. The tuition at Providence is $400. Whether it will remain at that figure for 1971-72 will be decided by the school's advisory board.

"We are well aware of the value the Franciscan Sisters, priests, dedicated lay faculty, parents and students of Sacred Heart High School places on Catholic education," and we are pleased to be in a position to help that education proceed without interruption."

"The students from Sacred Heart will come with friends and will find some familiar faces and many new friends here at Providence. Sister Rose Angela, my assistant, and Sister Anna, our religious department chairman, both commute daily from the Sacred Heart campus," Father Kaffer said.

"Many details of this cooperative venture are now under study. Faculty openings at Providence, as well as equipment needs will be a part of this study. I expect there will be about 20 men and 18 women, on the faculty next school year, with about half or more of each group being religious," Father Kaffer said.

Even before the merger, Providence expected an increase of approximately 100 in enrollment. Father Kaffer estimates that that figure could now double or even triple.

Students of Sacred Heart high school and their parents have launched a fight to keep the school open as an independent educational unit.

Pair nominated to AF Academy

LOCKPORT—Two young area men are among twenty youths nominated last week for the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colorado, by Congressman John N. Erlenborn. The two would become part of the class entering in the fall of 1971.

The two men are Martin R. Stytz, Lockport, and William M. Daniels, Lemont.

The selections were made on the basis of tests administered by the Civil Service Commission. The nominees must still pass stringent physical and college entrance examinations before they may be admitted to the Academy.

Lockport gets new bridge

LOCKPORT — A large group of Lockport residents opened its Christmas present last Monday with the dedication of the new high-level bridge on 9th Street.

William Sabo, president of the First National Bank of Lockport, opened the ceremony at the eastern end of the bridge at 11 a.m.

Lockport Central East High School band performed as part of the program.

Mayor George Nordstrom, Lockport, and Rep. W. Robert Blair commented on the unified effort which made the completion of the bridge possible. Rep. Blair cut the red ribbon; the barricades were removed; and traffic was underway.

Immediately following the ceremony a luncheon was hosted at Lewis-St. Francis College by Mayor Nord-strom, the Lockport City Council, Lockport Savings and Loan Association, the First National Bank of Lockport and Lewis-St. Francis College.

The invocation was given by Father Arthur Maher of St. Andrew's Church in Romeoville. He expressed the hope that the new span would be a symbol of fewer walls and more bridges.

Sabo, master of ceremonies, introduced the special guests: John O'Hara, mayor of Romeoville; Frank Berta, mayor of Crest Hill; Brother Paul French, president of Lewis-St. Francis College; Sigmund Ziejewski, regional state highway engineer for the district; Willard Anderson, president of Lockport Savings and Loan; and guest speaker Blair.

Blair reminded those attending that the old swing bridge had been built in 1905 and that its 21-foot width and 12-ton load limit had been inadequate for some time. In recent years barge and boat traffic using the canal have caused the bridge to open on an average of 600 times per month. An estimated 8,000 motorists used it each day.

The new bridge is one completed item on a list of improvements scheduled for the Joliet area. Two more high-level bridges are planned for the Lockport vicinity to further relieve traffic congestion.

Mayor Nordstrom closed the program expressing the thought that the completion of the new bridge would be the start of many improvements in Lockport.

Dotty Choate, 17, a senior member of the Lockport Central High School Band, shivers in the freezing temperatures that marked the Monday opening of the new bridge on Route 7. The old swing bridge, which will lose its steady traffic to its new young brother, can be seen in the background.

Council OK's grant

LOCKPORT -- The major order of business at the regular meeting of the Lockport City Council was the adoption of a resolution authorizing the acceptance of a federal grant in the amount of $294,880.

The council voted unanimously to empower Mayor George Nordstrom to officially accept the federal monies for the "modification and alteration" of the secondary sewage treatment plant now under construction.

Gerald E. Thompson, of Belting Engineering Consultants, advisors for the project, explained the terms of the grant and future possibilities for the city in obtaining other federal aid.

According to Thompson, the grant for the sewage treatment plant is authorized by the department of the interior.

Among other business discussed, at the Monday night meeting, were filing of a long range transportation plan and establishing bus service in the township.

City Clerk Donald C.

Murphy announced that January 11 is the first day that absent voters serving in the armed forces or their dependents may make application for an official ballot for the city elections to be conducted on April 20, 1971.

January 11 is also the first day for filing certificates of nomination for this election. The final day for filing is February 15, 1971.

No names may be withdrawn from nomination after February 20, and no objections to certificates of nomination may be filed after this date.

Named to new position

FRANKFORT — Ray Wohlfert, plant manager of Mobil Chemical Co., Frankfort, has been named central region general manager for the company's packaging department.

The packaging department produces and markets polyethylene and polystyrene plastic packaging, including sandwich and food storage bags; laundry and cleaning bags; leakproof can liners; plastic bags for prepackaging produce, poultry and retail bakery products; polystyrene foam meat and produce trays and egg cartons.

Wohlfert, a native of South Bend, Ind., joined Mobil Chemical in January, 1962, at the company's plant in Jacksonville, Ill., where he held various management positions, including operations manager. A graduate of Indiana University, he served in the U.S. Air Force and prior to joining Mobil Chemical was employed by Libby, McNeil & Libby.

Wohlfert, his wife Julie and their three children reside on Hackberry Drive, in the Connecticut Hills section of Frankfort.

Frankfort may get sued over pollution

FRANKFORT--The office of Illinois Attorney General William Scott has a greeting for Frankfort but it does not quite fall into the Merry Christmas Happy New Year category.

Herbert Kaplan, acting assistant chief of the air and water pollution division of Scott's office at Chicago, allegedly contacted an area newspaper last Friday and announced the state was thinking about suing the village of Frankfort under the anti-pollution laws. He didn't say that Scott was really going to file suit but said the attorney general's office was "now deciding what would be a fair and appropriate action against the village."

Kaplan said there was a possibility that the attorney general's office would file for an injunction and also seek damages under the Environmental Protection Act. Violators, Kaplan said, are subject to a fine of $1,000 a day for each day the violation continues. He did say that the village could seek a variance from the Illinois Pollution Control Board to allow time for it to put its plans in effect for improving sewage treatment.

A couple of weeks ago the village board instructed Robert Hamilton, village engineer, to get plans completed as soon as possible so enlargement and improvement of the sewage treatment system could be started. Representatives of bond houses also were present that night and advised the village that issuance of general obligation bonds would be the best way to finance the project. Hamilton said he could have the plans completed by the time the bond referendum is held in February. General obligation bonds are paid out of taxes and such a bond issue requires approval by the voters. The bond representatives pointed out that if the people voted down the bond issue the state could force the village to issue bonds despite any objections the public might have.

According to Kaplan 10 people in Connecticut Hills instigated the action. According to Kaplan they complained about the sewage treatment plant, and investigators from his office brought in findings that "suggest some type of action is called for."

No word of the complaints or of the threatened action by the attorney general's office was received by Frankfort last week, according to Mayor Glenn Warning and Village Attorney August Santoro. "I know nothing of this," the mayor said. "All I know is that our sewage treatment is a step ahead of other systems in the area in that we do have a polishing pond. I also know that we have been busy for several months getting things lined up to improve the system as we were told to do by the state."

"I was talking with some representatives from Connecticut Hills since our last meeting and they told me they would oppose any bond issue to improve the sewage treatment system. Of course, if the voters approve a bond issue or if the state forces us to issue bonds these people are going to have to pay their share too."

The estimated cost of the proposed enlargement and improvement program was placed at around $300,000 by the engineers.

Frankfort. . . .

"It seems odd to me," Mayor Warning added, "that if conditions here are as bad as the attorney general's office contends then why did the state Environmental Protection Agency send us written approval last week of the plans to extend sewer and water on Center Rd. If Frankfort pollutes Hickory Creek it is not the only community guilty of such an act. Why pick on us?" Village Attorney Santoro states the action unjustified.

Frankfort is doing everything within its powers to upgrade the sewage treatment system," Santoro said. "The engineers have been working on plans for months. We are one of the few communities with a polishing pond. The state, however, told us some time ago that we would have to install sand filters to provide tertiary treatment, which no other village is doing and we have been proceeding with plans to meet the state's deadline of 1972.

"We have never been contacted by the attorney general's office on this matter. I would think that if the attorney general has any complaint against the village, and planned to take action against it he would have informed us first. When the attorney general contacts a newspaper first to threaten a lawsuit against a municipality he is more interested in publicity than pollution."

Holiday drinking advice

There's a new, more modern, approach to holiday party-giving advises the Chicago Motor Club-AAA. Many host's and guests' enthusiasm for holiday merry-making has been tempered with the knowledge that more than half of all traffic fatalities involve a driver who has been drinking.

The motor club therefore suggest that holiday party-givers "Be First a Friend ... then a Host."

The gracious host can help his guest enjoy themselves and add to the safety of all motorists, by following these suggestions:

--Don't force drinks on guests. Have a self-service bar and let guests mix their own beverages.

--Offer a selection of non-alcoholic or lightly spiked punch and soft drinks in addition to harder refreshments.

--Show your hospitality in the kitchen with a tempting array of food.

--At mid-partys, serve coffee and bring on rich desserts to help moderate the effects of alcohol. This may signal an end to the drinking period.

--Above all, encourage the guest who has over-consumed to ride home with someone else, or offer to put him up for the night.

By following these suggestions you'll not only be helping your friends who'll be driving later, but you will also make the highways safer for all motorists.

LEMONT — The three Roman Catholic churches in the Lemont area have been serving their parishioners almost since the first settlement of the village.

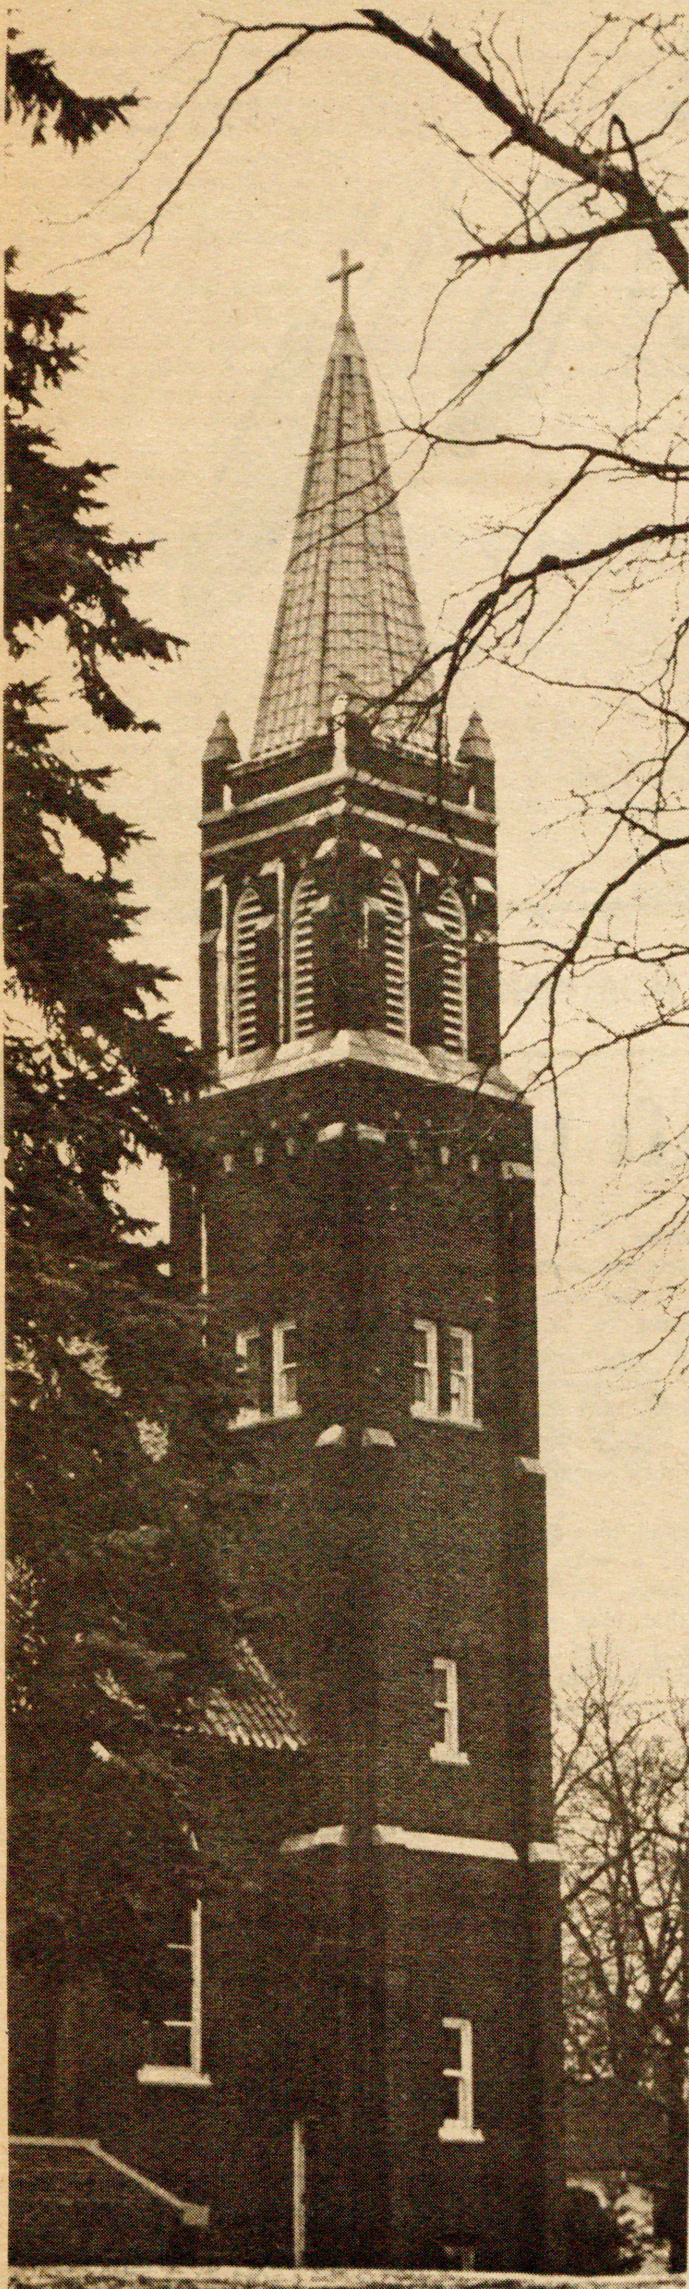

St. Patrick's, within the present village limits, dates from 1840. St. Alphonsus was founded in 1868. SS. Cyril and Mehtodius is more than 80 years old.

The original parishioners were mostly Irish and Polish workers on the Illinois and Michigan Canal, although, of course, there were others of different national backgrounds.

The Rev. Edward P. FitzGerald is the present pastor of St. Patrick's. The Rev. John G. Grinis is pastor of St. Alphonsus. Presiding over St. Cyril's is the Rev. Julius E. Gilewski.

Father Fitzgerald estimates that nearly half of the Lemont population are Roman Catholics and attend services at these churches.

Can't be perfect

By Herb Hall

What is known as the American Way of Life doesn't always work out the way we would like it to. But then, nothing ever does. We can say, though, that it works out as well as any other system ever has.

Gradually, at the pace of a man walking through sand, it is approaching, or beginning to approach, the ideals of the founding fathers—which, admittedly, were a little far-reaching. People are not all that good. The founding fathers can't be blamed for that.

Last week my niece, a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, was assigned the responsibility of leading a group of newly naturalized citizens in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. She had to write it down, because she wasn't confident that she could remember it.

Her mother (my sister), who is a member of the board of governors of the Society of Mayflower Descendants, wasn't sure she could remember it either.

But I would be willing to hazard a small wager (very small) that the new citizens will remember it.

They are rather more likely to than we "old line" Americans who, after many generations, are inclined to take the whole system for granted, since we have never known any other, or at least have never been subjected to any other. On balance, we have decided, after three and a half centuries, that this is a fairly good country, as countries go.

This not to say that it is perfect. Vice President Thomas Marshall, during the presidency of Woodrow Wilson, remarked that what this country needed was a good five-cent cigar. This statement was memorable primarily because nobody can remember anything else that he may have said.

Important as the cigar issue may have been in the early part of this century, I feel we have an even more important one now. It is the problem of trying to mail a letter. I was brought up in the belief that the mail must go through.

It was more or less like the slogan "the show must go on." Nobody ever knew exactly why either was necessary.

I have been carrying around a letter to my sister dated about a week ago. The reason, in addition to natural inefficiency on my part, is that I can't get a six-cent stamp. I can get a five-cent stamp, but I can't get a one-cent stamp to go with it.

I can remember when mailing a letter was a relatively simple matter. You just bought a three-cent stamp, for three cents, at your friendly neighborhood drugstore. Now you have to fight with a machine, give up, and call long distance to get your message across.

It is very likely that you will get a wrong number, of course, and you don't do this unless you have something fairly important to convey, such as a death in your family, or the imminence of your own death when your insurance is in arrears.

Nevertheless, as I started out to say (if you can remember that far back in the present dissertation) as mankind has stumbled through the ages, it hasn't really come up with anything much better than the American system.

We have pretty good baseball games, apple pie and lynchings. That's more than the British, the Germans or the French can say. Their lynchings are pretty poor, compared with ours. They don't know how to bake apple pie, and cricket is a pretty poor substitute for baseball.

Better government

The recent action of the Lemont village board in increasing salaries for the police department and other village employees is commendable, in our opinion.

Although the total of the salary raises will cost the citizens in the neighborhood of $37,000 a year, we think it will be worth it. To get good public servants, we have to pay for them, wherever we live.

Increased public expenditures, inevitably paid for in one way or another through taxes, are never popular. Nobody wants to spend money.

On the other hand, everybody wants adequate municipal services. Sometimes the choice is hard for elected village officials.

We think that in this case Lemont's Mayor Kujawa and the trustees have acted with foresight and courage.

By Garrick Feldman

I put a couple of jazz records on my turntable the other night. It had been a while since I had listened to jazz. When I played the records—tenor saxophonists Dexter Gordon and Booker Ervin, recorded in Europe, and Bill Evans, recorded at the Village Vanguard, New York City, they sounded better than ever.

My interest in jazz began to wane, for no explicable reason, a year or two ago. It used to be once, when I was in my late teens, that jazz records were the only ones I bought. I had a certain pride in pointing out to friends that jazz was the only music represented in my collection.

The jazz period in my life, as we shall call it, began after my return from a sojourn in Toronto. I had gone there after graduating from high school. While some young people are fortunate, after finishing high school, to take off a year or so from school and go to Europe "to find themselves" I could only afford to go to Canada. The therapeutic purpose of my Canadian stay having been accomplished, I came back to Chicago to work for a newspaper, where I covered the arts.

After a few weeks on the job I went to review a play, and following it I was introduced to the playwright. We became friends. He was, among other things, a serious jazz fan, and it was through him, while listening to his records, that I acquired a taste for jazz.

My attraction to jazz can be explained for many reasons: the obvious one, that I find the sound of it pleasing; the image of the jazz musician as the original hipster, taking drugs and always on the road doing one-night stands, used to appeal to me; and, because of my sympathy for the black liberation movement, I was naturally drawn to jazz, which is nothing if not black.

My buying jazz records was, simply, to affirm my admiration of blackness. Now this is not to say that my jazz collection proves that I am a good guy when it comes to race relations; in fact, if I were asked what my contributions have been towards a better America for our black citizens, I would have to answer: nothing. But when I was avidly buying those records I was growing up in an all-white universe, and one's smallest gestures can easily be exaggerated. I blew all out of proportion the significance of my jazz record buying days. Yet, for an 18-year-old groping for some sort of expression towards the black struggle, dishing out five dollars for a record by black artists meant, at least to me, that I wasn't a bigot.

I suppose there must be quite a few prejudiced people who like jazz, so my jazz records prove nothing whatever. I have, fortunately, outgrown my pretenses about my attraction to jazz, having long given up the social significance that I attached to it. So when I now listen to jazz it has nothing to do with civil rights or hipsters. I listen because I enjoy those artists who happen to be black. I enjoy them because they have created the only American musical form, the only American cultural export that is still universally admired.

Merry Christmas! May the new year bring peace, freedom, justice and happiness.

Loose licensing

The inadequacy of medical licensing procedures in Illinois was brought to public attention recently with the arrest of a Des Plaines physician who was accused of drugging and sexually assaulting women patients.

The doctor had received his license to practice in Illinois because he did not inform state authorities that he had once had his Missouri license revoked. He merely stated that he had a license to practice in Tennessee and failed to mention that he had ever been licensed to practice in Missouri.

State officials admitted that little or no effort has been made to clear such applications with other states, and they offered no satisfactory explanation for granting a license to an out-of-state physician who appears to have a questionable history of professional activity.

It is reassuring, therefore to note that William H. Robinson, director of the Illinois Department of Registration and Education, has announced he is revising the procedure used by applicants for physicians' licenses.

From now on, applicants must fill out a form stating whether they were ever licensed to practice in any other state and whether they were charged or convicted of a felony.

Although this reform is late in coming about, it will be of some help in the future toward protecting Illinois citizens from physicians of questionable character or background.

We would urge the state to take an additional step in this regard, not only for physicians but for all professions subject to state licensing regulations.

Some arrangement of reciprocity should be established for checking on the license records of all out-of-state applicants. If the Des Plaines doctor's application had been routinely processed through such an inter-state clearing house, his Missouri record would have been exposed regardless of the data provided on his Illinois form.

The purpose of state licensing is to maintain the integrity of the profession and to ensure the public of minimum protection. These changes will help Illinois achieve that goal, and we hope Robinson will make appropriate recommendations, if necessary, to the General Assembly when it convenes next month.

Any difference?

We are not so sure it was so great. All four of the side-bar proposals, abolition of the death penalty, merit appointment of judges, reduction of the voting age to 18, and single-member districts for the state assembly, were voted down. Voters could vote for the constitution without voting for these proposals. It was planned this way.

This newspaper took a stand in favor of adoption of the new constitution, and we join the politicians in patting ourselves on the back in that respect. However, we hear a slightly hollow sound when we do so.

Illinois has a new constitution. Now the question is what difference will it make.

The approximately 30 per cent of registered voters who turned out for the December 15 election voted overwhelmingly for the new constitution. However the new founding fathers, in their wisdom, had seen fit to relegate the major controversial issues to what might be called "side-bars."

After the tumult and the shouting died we heard dignitaries of both parties patting each other on the back verbally for a great achievement.

Editor, Graphic Newspapers:

I read Glenn Logan's story on the Grace Rehabilitation and Job Training Center. I found it most interesting, especially the attitude of Mokena's enlightened mayor.

I pray you took the word "enlightened" as sarcasm and not approbation or praise. For a show of hands about anything so consequential and then to go along with the herd is most certainly not worthy of praise, especially at this time of the year.

Wouldn't a referendum to find out the whole community's attitude have been more in order? Perhaps the whole area could have been included in the referendum, since the whole area would have benefited from any good that would have come from this Christian enterprise.

It's another Christmas season, ringing out with old fashioned joy. Hope you and yours have the merriest Yuletide of all. To our warm wishes, add our sincere "Thank You."

"I'm salting away twenty bucks at the Frankfort State Bank every payday."

"That's nothing to sneeze at especially when your money earns interest daily."

Twenty dollars a week mounts to over $1,000 in a year . . . $5,000 in five years . . . $10,000 in ten years. Nobody's sneezing at THOSE sums! And your regular deposits are not the only Growth Factor in a Savings Account. Beginning Jan. 1, 1971 every dollar you put in earns INTEREST FROM THE DAY OF DEPOSIT TO THE DAY OF WITHDRAWAL, COMPOUNDED QUARTERLY. Thus the salting away process can produce a well-seasoned cash reserve that will be your friend-in-need some day when the salt shaker is empty. Let's shake on it!

BY JEAN ROUSE

Told you last week it would happen. I knew that at the last minute, Christmas would seep into my skin and catch up with me. I rationalize this method of operation by claiming that I have been around newspaper offices too long. I know very few newspaper people who really get inspired to write when there is plenty of time and no pressure. The best stuff seems to be turned out when the hot breath of "deadline" is felt in the left ear and the editor is breathing in the right one!

Now that Christmas is on deadline, I can enjoy it. We've had the Christmas records playing all week and I've begun to feel the beauty of the season instead of just the frantic preparations.

Last night, when the house was quiet, I sat watching the fire in the fireplace burn out, and I had a few minutes to stop "doing" and just "be." And as I sat, some special thoughts of special people came slipping into my heart, along with Christmas.

I thought of my Chinese friend, who does not celebrate Christmas, but is given to greeting me with his own special blessing: "May your home be always safe from tigers!" We have been safe from tigers! We have been safe from tigers, my friend, and we send you our Christmas blessings!

I thought, too, of the small boy with the over-loaded bicycle who brings our paper at six in the morning. Little guy, you are learning responsibility and you're doing a good job. We appreciate you looking like a gremlin in your knitted face-mask. I'm sure some days you'll wonder why you ever took on a paper route!

A loving thought to the confused little boy with a Christian mother and a Jewish father who sang cheerfully "Happy Hanukah to the Baby Jesus!" He's got a good idea there, and I somehow think the Baby Jesus liked his carol.

And a prayer for the men in the police car which just went silently past the house. We needed them one night not long ago, and they appeared in less than a minute—pleasant, competent and most welcome. May their nights be safe, for there are families who love them.

A prayer for all the clumsy little boys in Christmas pageants, for it is in their hearts that Christmas grows and shines from their eyes into older and tired hearts.

And a prayer for little girls, shyly conscious of angel wings which tend to slip, for they are as near "angels on earth" as we seem to have.

And the most fervent prayer of all, for our servicemen in Vietnam, for sometimes it seems that only those of us who have experienced the terror of having someone we love sitting in a Vietnamese bunker, care-or even think—about these men. For them, there is a special prayer, from the American Legion:

"Lord, shelter the prisoners of war in Southeast Asia. Open the hearts and minds of their captors that they may be restored to their homes and loved ones.

"Each has carried the burden of battle: Each has discharged an obligation of his country. Each has been subjected to hazard, pain, and imprisonment beyond the lot of the soldier.

Oh, Lord, these gallant men who bear so great a burden must not be forsaken.

"God of Justice to whom we pray, Thy compassion we beseech: Lift their burden, give them strength and strike the shackles that deny them freedom."

And for each one of you, a happy and blessed Christmas season—"May your home be always safe from tigers!"

The Ann Rutledge P.T.A. held its meeting and annual Christmas party on Monday evening Dec. 14. The meeting was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance and a P.T.A. prayer. There was a short business meeting.

Mrs. Larry Tompkins and Mrs. Larry Jones have turned in some more glass in the amount of $8. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heavener had volunteered to purchase artificial Christmas trees. They purchased eight 4 ft. trees for $5.83 each and three smaller trees for $2.27 each. The Fun Fair and Bazaar held recently was a huge success. A profit amounted to $402. It is believed that this is more than was made at previous bazaars. The president, Mrs. Larry Tompkins would like to thank everyone who worked on the event, especially the business men who donated so generously. The room count was a tie between the kindergarten and the third grade rooms. The door prize was won by Louis Willson. After the meeting, games were played with Mrs. Wayne Sulkowski in charge. Hostess for the evening was Mrs. Al Castens.

The good Christians certainly were silent (during the day and silent at night 'oo) about this good work. Perhaps when the people, after going through the program proposed, might have wanted to marry your sons or daughters.

Wouldn't it be hell to have an ex-con, an ex-hophead or whatever else the person used to be after getting back on his feet and rejoining the herd, to consider that he or she was worthy in God's sight to become a respected and respectable member of society? The thought must give good people a shudder of horror because after all what would others think? After all, those who consider themselves pure 100 percent good and always have been will, without a doubt, pass through the Pearly Gates without even being Challenged.

I haven't met anyone like that lately, but then I even stop and shoot the breeze with the longhairs over in Tinley Park, including the accused arsonists. As you should know the good people of that community have been trying to hassle those undesirable out of that town for some time.

It appears that those recalcitrants feel they have a right to live in that town. It is obvious someone is hassling back, judging by the number of fires that have taken place. What happens to people who are hassled out of town? Don't they go to another town?

It has been said that some people in Tinley Park are so narrow you could put 20 of them in a single bed and still have room left over. Some people certainly are narrow, and pick strange bed-fellows. Could it be that Mokena is as narrow in its thinking and attitudes and so-called Christianity as is Tinley Park? Heaven help us.

On second thot

By Glenn Logan

It looks like Irving Berlin is going to have to rewrite that song of his, "This Is the Army."

Gen. William Westmoreland, Army Chief of Staff, has ordered some changes made so that Mr. Green, or Mr. Brown, or even Mr. Jones in the Berlin song will find army life softer than the civilian variety.

Gen. Westmoreland is out to improve the image of the Army and make recruiting much easier so that in time there will be enough volunteers to eliminate the draft.

Beer and rest, the general has ordered. No standing reveille either. So much for another of Berlin's songs dealing with the horrors of early rising and wishing a violent end for the bugler.

The news dispatches from Washington did not say how the troops will be awakened. It is not made clear whether someone will tiptoe from room to room or bed to bed, giving sleepers a gentle shake and informing them breakfast will be ready in an hour. Maybe no one will come around and a soldier will be able to sack in until he decides to get up and go down to the club. Maybe there will still be a bugler to sound reveille, but who cares is he is awakened if he can just turn over and go back to sleep again.

No more of those sergeant whistles and invitations to rise and shine preparatory to turning out and answering roll call in the chill of the dawn.

Gen. Westmoreland says the army guys don't have to stand reveille anymore, "except for special occasions," but when those occur the officers have to stand it, too — all of 'em, including the C.O. In the past it was a very special occasion indeed when any officer above 2d Lieutenant ever stood reveille.

The general's order, calculated to aid recruitment, eliminates the need of passes to leave army posts, as well as bed checks and restrictions on the distances soldiers may travel from their bases.

A fellow with a buddy in the flying section of the Air Force should be able to see the world. A little flight to Paris, a jaunt to New York, or Florida, or even L.A. would make a nice break in routine. Now if the general would fix it up so one didn't have to be at his base in order to sign the payroll but still able to draw pay, the army would be a popular place indeed. Maybe it could issue credit cards.

There is only one drawback to the changes ordered in army life as far as yours truly sees it, and that's this beer business. The general has given his O.K. to the serving of beer in the mess halls and the establishment of beer vending machines in barracks. But hold up with your Prosits! There's a catch to it. The beer that is permitted is that 3.2 stuff.

Introduce a vegetable coloring to water that will give it an amber look and one couldn't distinguish it from that 3.2 brew.

Temperance groups need have no worries. Anyone who drinks 3.2 for a full enlistment will come home a teetotaler — as far as beer is concerned.

Teen group to Christmas carol

ROMEOVILLE — St. Andrew's Teen Club has announced its plans for Christmas caroling to Ry, Dec. 23. The singing of traditional Christmas carols will start at St. Andrew's Church, 219 Arlington Dr., at 7 p.m.

The club has invited interested person to contact Sean Clancy, 838-4001, or Laura Kowalski, 838-6920.

approximately 1:15 a.m. on Monday, Dec. 14 at the Clark Service Station located at 1709 State Street. The attendant on duty at the time, George Place, told police that four males escaped with about $70-$80 after one pulled a pistol and demanded the money. # 'Open concept' school discussed ROMEONVILLE — Establishment of an "open concept" school was discussed at the December 14 meeting of District 96 school board. Kenneth Kibler, board member, requested an investigation of the possibility of selling or leasing Valley View School and using funds from the sale to build and equip a new "open concept" school.

The open concept in schools has been hailed by some school officials as a bold step forward in learning. Students are encouraged to learn at their own paces and are not subject to the rigors of national learning programs.

Bolingbrook's new Oak View School and the additions at Ridge View School and Brook View School are all patterned on the open concept plan.

Kibler noted that construction of a new building for the open concept school would be more practical than attempting to adapt the present Valley View School building to the new learning method. He suggested the lease or sale of the facility to governmental bodies or private organizations for use as office space.

John Strobbe, chairman of the personnel committee, announced that settlement of a secretaries' contract had been reached. Building secretaries, members of the Service Employees International Union Local 11, will receive an eight per cent salary increase retroactive to July 1, 1970. Although not involved in the dispute, district secretaries will receive a similar increase.

Leavitt Brothers builders have donated two ten-acre sites to District 96. Both sites are adjacent to eight-acre park areas. Leavitt Brothers are currently building a subdivision, located partly in the district and partly in Naperville, which is being considered for annexation to the city of Naperville. Donations of two school sites to District 96 and two sites to Naperville were required prior to annexation of the area. James Bingle, president of the school board, estimated that the subdivision would bring approximately 1200 new students into the district.

Bonds from the recent referendum were sold to the Continental Bank and Trust Company of Chicago. An interest rate of 4.41 on $845,000 worth of bonds will be charged. The bonds plus an interest-free loan of $1,700,000 authorized by the Illinois School Building Commission will be used to construct a new 30-room school building and additions to Brook View and Ridge View Schools and to install equipment at a third school.

The board announced that it will meet with officials of the Fountainebleau Library district to discuss setting up temporary community library facilities at Park View and North View Schools. Robert Noethen and John Strobbe will represent the board.

In other action, the board voted to update its insurance coverage with Fazio Insurance Company effective January 1, 1971. Coverage on buildings will be increased by $633,090, while coverage on building contents will be decreased by $252,413.

James Rosinski, Woodridge, cuts the Christmas tree his family has selected, while Jamie, 4, and Mark, 10, give instructions.

Do-it-yourself Yule tree enjoying a vogue in area

With a final stroke, the tree is felled.

Many area residents have made this the year of the do-it-yourself Christmas tree. Weary of selecting a less-than-perfect specimen for the living room from a commercial lot, adventuresome Yule celebrators are turning to tree farms, such as the Ide farm near Downers Grove, where they can select and cut their own "personalized" tree.

The trip to the tree farm can be a frustrating experience. After wandering up and down the rows, examining hundreds of trees of different varieties, the potential Yule trees may all begin to look alike. After finally selecting one, the chores of sawing through the trunk and transporting the tree home begin.

But in the final analysis, most tree-hunters will agree that their own is the most beautiful Christmas tree ever grown - so what if the trunk is a little bent!

Walter Letts and Janet Israelian secure their tree for the trip home to Chicago.

Someone's been displaced.

The tree farm is not noted for its graceful postures.

No, this is not the latest in hair fashions.

Sandburg guard Bill Grimm meets strong defense of Lincoln-Way players Doug Fredin and Bill Simpson.

Sandburg gets beat by Lincoln-Way

By Dave Lumley

The Carl Sandburg High School Eagles, trying to establish themselves as contenders in the Southwest Suburban Conference race, were beaten, 96-75, by Lincoln-Way and, 74-61, by Rich East last weekend to drop their conference record to 1-3.

Friday night at Lincoln-Way the Eagles showed a new controlled offense and held a six-point lead with a little more than three minutes left in the half but saw their lead melt away and went into the locker room trailing by seven points.

Coach Art Wilson said, "Those last two minutes is where the game was turned around. Until then we had control. They were playing our kind of game, but their press forced us into turnovers and fouls and they ran up 10 quick points."

"Lincoln-Way came out in the second half and got us to play its run and shoot style of game. The boys really hit well from the field, 60 percent in fact. I think their shooting was the difference in the game, but besides that it was pretty even," Wilson added.

Senior Bill Grimm was the Eagle's leading scorer with 24 points and in one stretch hit six straight shots. John Podlipnick also added 14 points and was perfect from the free throw line hitting 6 for 6.

Saturday night the Eagles were within four points of the Rich East Rockets midway through the fourth quarter but couldn't catch them. 22 points. Mark Henning also scored in double figures, tossing in 15 points.

Wilson said, "Too many fouls and turnovers was the difference against Rich, we made five unnecessary fouls near the end of the game and that cost us."

Rick Bain lead the Eagles rebounding crops with 11. Wilson cited the fact that the Rockets made 85 percent of their free throws and out-rebounded the Eagles, 34-26.

Wilson said "Bill Grimm shot well against both teams, and if Grimm is given the open shot he is deadly."

"It looks like we will have to be spoilers now, our conference is very tough, and our Christmas tournament is also very tough," Wilson added.

Sandburg's overall record stands at 1-6.

Flyers open with a win

LOCKPORT--Lewis St. Francis College Flyers opened their 1970-71 basketball season with a 81-79 victory over the University of Illinois Chicago Circle Campus on Monday, Dec. 7.

The Flyers controlled the game for 33 minutes and held a 15-point advantage before the Chikas put on a full court press. Although the Flyers' lead was cut to four points with a minute left, the Lewis team held on for their first victory of the season.

The Flyers' point leader was Mike Slovick, who had a total of 30 points and ten rebounds. Following Slovick were Reuben Arthur, Denny Webb and Chuck Kobliska with 13, 12 and 11 points respectively. Leading rebound-ers were Kobliska with 13 and Jim Lucas with 12.

On Thursday Lewis-St. Francis College put together a sensational team effort and as a result scored a 102-97 victory over St. Xavier.

From a 44-44 halftime score, Lewis threatened to pull away but was kept from doing so until the final buzzer. While Lewis scored eight

Cagers lose four games

ARBURY HILLS — The basketball season continues for Arbury Hills with less than spectacular results. On Dec. 10, an away game was played in Palos at which time the lightweight team lost by a score of 27-13 and the heavyweights lost 34-20.

Another away set of games matched Arbury Hills against Arbor Park, and the results were, unfortunate. The lightweights lost 45-13 and the heavyweights lost 57-22.

The next scheduled games for both teams will follow Christmas vacation break.

Porters beat Trojans, 54-48

By Craig Lezatte

Downers Grove North and Lockport Central clashed Saturday night in a big non-conference contest at Lockport West High School, with Lockport outlasting the Trojans in a poor shooting game, 54-48.

With the win, Lockport Central is left with a 5-2 record. Downers Grove now has 3-5 record.

The first quarter was played at an even clip, with all-conference 6'8" center Gary Wonsowski hitting for seven of his total 16 points, but the Trojans were down 15-13.

Both teams hit a cold shooting spell in the second period. At the half it was Lockport Central, 26-22. The cold shooting carried over into the third quarter, with Downers tying up the game at 34-34. Lockport hit only two for eight from the free-throw line in that period. Starter Dennis Williamson of Downers left the game with 2:49 left to play in that period with five personal fouls.

In the final period Lockport got hot, hitting 69 percent of its shots, with freshman Ellis Files and senior Bill Thompson both scoring six points.

Leading scorers for the Porters were Thompson, with 14 points and 13 rebounds, and Files, who hit for 11 points. The Trojans' Wonsowski led all scorers with 16 points and pulled down 14 rebounds to lead in that department. Jim O'Flaherty picked up 12 points, followed by Keith Lezatte, who came off the bench to add eight.

Spartans crack Knights' armor

The Lincoln-Way Knights suffered their first defeat Saturday night at the hands of Oak Lawn, 71-66, after seven straight victories.

The game could be summed up as too much C.J. Kupec, a 6-8, 225-pound senior who scored 32 points and captured 17 rebounds for Oak Lawn.

In other Southwest Suburban Conference games Saturday, Homewood-Flossmoor smothered Reavis, 100-43. Bremen beat Evergreen Park, 78-65, and Rich East beat Carl Sandburg, 71-63.

Providence High School Celtics of New Lenox lost to Little Flower of Chicago Saturday at New Lenox, 71-63. It was the second straight loss for Providence. An 11-point outburst by Little Flower in the final quarter plastered the Celtics' hopes for a comeback.

Lemont defeated

by Jim Ruppert

LEMONT — The Lemont Injuns suffered a 64-61 defeat at the hands of the Reed Custer Comets, of Braidwood, Tuesday, Dec. 15.

The Injuns had a hard time getting going in the game and were behind 21-14 at the end of the first quarter. Lemont's tough defense and good shooting cut the deficit to one point at the half, 35-34.

The second half was all Reed Custer as it dominated the boards and out-muscled the smaller Injuns.

Lemont was led by sophomore Frank Basco, who scored 15 points. Dick Pierce scored 14, Roger Weber 12 and Steve Pociask 10.

The Comets' high point men were Rick Ertley and Ernie Topps with 15 apiece, followed by Ed Croft and Jack Fitzpatrick with 14.

Phil Jackstadt who scored 41 points as the Lewis team suffered a 118-82 loss.

Saturday night, Dec. 12, MacMurray College handed Lewis its second straight defeat by a score of 98-89. The game was an up and down affair with Lewis leading by as many as nine points and trailing by as many as six in the first half.

Leading by three at the half, MacMurray increased its lead to 11 only to have Lewis bounce back and tie the score 82-82 with five minutes remaining. Two baskets then put MacMurray ahead to stay for the final four minutes of the game.

The Flyers take a Christmas break and will return to the courts on January 2 for a home game against Parsons College.

LOCKPORT—On Tuesday night, Dec. 8, the Lewis-St. Francis College basketball team upped its win record to 3-0 as they beat a previously undefeated St. Procopius team by a score of 68-65.

The Lewis Flyers were ahead 38-31 at half-time and held the lead until the Eagles tied the score with about ten minutes remaining. The game remained a close affair until the Flyers' Reuben Arthur tied the game with a 15-foot jump shot in the last minute and a half.

Lewis recovered the ball and went on to victory. High point men for Lewis were Mike Slovick and Arthur with 17 points each, followed by Mike Flaherty with 14. Leading rebounder was Jim Lucas with seven, followed by Flaherty and Chuck Kobliska with six each.

Free lunches planned

NEW LENOX — If any Lincoln-Way High School student goes without tucking away a balanced, nutritious lunch on the days he is in school it will be his own fault. School officials announced the establishment of a policy to determine those eligible to receive lunches free or at reduced prices.

The regular price for a school lunch is 40 cents daily; however, since some families may find it difficult to pay the full price for their children, the school will provide these lunches free or at a reduced price to those determined eligible. Supt. Joe Kruzich is the authority responsible for making determinations.

He urges families who believe their children may be eligible to apply. Copies of the application form and information regarding procedure were dispatched to every family last Thursday via students. Additional copies may be obtained, or the district policy reviewed, at the school by interested persons.

When filled out and signed by an adult member of the family the applications should be sent to Kruzich. The applications will be reviewed within five days, Supt. Kruzich said, and the family notified, in writing, of the decision reached.

Information provided in the application, Kruzich said, will be held in strict confidence.

The family income will be the determining factor in reaching decisions, it was said. The federal department of agriculture has amassed huge food stocks through its support policies.

The department has set up an income schedule to be followed. Children from families in the following categories automatically qualify for free lunches:

| Family Size | Annual Gross Income |
|-------------|---------------------|
| 1           | $1,920             |
| 2           | 2,520               |
| 3           | 3,120               |
| 4           | 3,720               |
| 5           | 4,270               |
| 6           | 4,820               |
| 7           | 5,320               |
| 8           | 5,820               |

Each additional family member 450

Any family not satisfied with the decision on its application may appeal the request to Asst. Supt. Jonas Lashmet, who will review the application.

"The district policy will be applied fairly and uniformly," said Supt. Kruzich, "and will become effective Jan. 1. Parents who believe they may qualify are urged to apply as it is the sincere desire of the district to reach every child who may need the benefit of a nutritious school lunch."

Set lunch program

LOCKPORT -- Ray Sprague, superintendent of School District 91, has mailed letters and applications to parents regarding free lunches for children in families with low incomes.

Determinations will be based on national guidelines used in participating schools throughout the United States and prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture under Public Law 91-248. In addition, consideration will be given to any unusual circumstances, such as family illness, unexpected expenses due to fire or similar disaster, seasonal employment, and similar emergency situations. All information will be kept strictly confidential.

A Type A bag lunch is prepared consisting of meat or an alternate protein-rich food, a serving of two or more fruits or vegetables, bread, butter, and milk.

on Tuesday, Dec. 15. A passing motorist noted two persons in the building after the station had closed and telephoned the police.

Sgt. Morelli and officer James Lambert arrived at the station just as the two suspects were leaving. The officers pursued the car at speeds up to 110 m.p.h. east on Route 7.

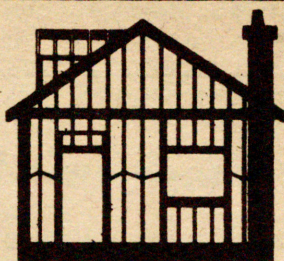

Arrested this weekend in connection with the burglary were two Lockport men. They were Herbert T. Lorenzen, 216 E. 12th St., and Raymond D. Tapper, 1709 State St.

The two are being held in Lockport City Jail in lieu of $2,000 bond each.

Mokena post office head is announced

MOKENA — Vincent DiBartholomeo, 36, 125 E. Francis Rd., New Lenox Township, has been named officer in charge of the Mokena post office. This is a new title under the new U.S. Postal Service, which makes him acting postmaster. When the board of governors, which will be set up under the Postal Reorganizational Act, is formed it is expected to name DiBartholomeo postmaster. Postmasters are no longer nominated and confirmed by congress.

DiBartholomeo succeeds Robert Yunker, who has been serving as acting postmaster, and will remain as a clerk. The new post office chief is a veteran of the postal service. He has been employed in the Joliet post office for 20 years.

DiBartholomeo plans to move to Mokena when he can sell his home in New Lenox Township. He and his wife, Josephine, have two children, a girl, Dawn, 12, a pupil in St. Jude School, and a 7-month-old boy, David. The new acting postmaster took over the Mokena office Dec. 7.

Theater trip for Y women

The Joliet YMCA Women and Girls Division has announced a theater trip to the musical "Promises, Promises," at the Shubert Theatre in Chicago on Wednesday, Jan. 20.

The chartered bus will leave the YMCA at 9:30 a.m., returning at 5:30 p.m. Cost will be $7.50 for members and $8.50 for non-members, and must be paid 48 hours in advance. Reservations may be made by calling 726-5361.

Area schools Get money

Ray Page, Illinois Superintendent of Public Instruction, announced that 28 Title I projects amounting to $930,612.60 have been approved for Illinois schools. Included in this total was $92,225.00 for Joliet Township High Schools District 204.

Local youth places sixth

NEW LENOX—Donald Janssen was a member of the Illinois 4-H Poultry Selection team that placed sixth at Chicago among 15 teams, according to George Young, Will County Assistant Extension Advisor.

The competition was in connection with the 1970 International Livestock Exposition held in Chicago.

Janssen is a member of the New Lenox Hayshakers 4-H Club. He earned the right to represent Illinois by placing high at the District 4-H Selection Contest and state competition.

Other members of the team are Marcia Anderson, Maple Park; Steve Hanson, Pontiac; and Tom Schneider, Red Park.

When frogs fight, Malaysians say, it's a sign of bad luck.

Parents receive district letter

LOCKPORT—Roy Sprague, Superintendent of District 91, Kelvin Grove and Milne Grove Schools, recently mailed a newsletter to parents of the district announcing the following:

Parents are reminded to listen to the Joliet radio stations for school closing announcements.

The district recently received a Title II grant for library and instructional materials amounting to $1.25 per student. The paper work is channeled through the administrative office. The Board of Education has approved a Title I project to provide summer school. Summer school classes have been of a remedial nature for those boys and girls who needed it, but consideration will be given to adding an enrichment program.

Bids are being sought for grading work at Milne Grove. After this is accomplished, seeding, landscaping and development by the Park District will follow.

Court decision on the ownership of Central School had again been delayed. District 91 is still responsible for care and maintenance of this property.

The Board of Education will have a study-discussion session at their next meeting to consider the curriculum, and how it relates to building facilities.

A Thought To Remember

BY BOB HIRSCH

Our Christmas prayers center on the celebration of the birth of the Prince of Peace. As we express affection to Him, we should realize we need His guidance more than ever. At long last, let us realize we need a united intelligence to accept and follow His guidance in the things we do and the things we think.

Let us realize no spot on earth can enjoy Peace on Earth as long as men fail to preserve peace in their hearts and minds. Let us realize that only with faith and hope can we unite as God's children; let us realize faith and hope will do away with the fears that divide us. At long last, let us realize hatred, fanaticism and extremism can terminate only in the desolation of the mind, body and spirit. Let us realize man's morality, decency and dignity must be genuine for there is no substitute. Above all, let us realize we are only temporary citizens of our time, but have permanent souls that last through eternity.

Don't you agree we should realize these things FROM New Year to Christmas; not merely FROM Christmas to New Year?...

CHRISTMAS

And the Message of the Manger Lives Again, Bringing Good Tidings of Comfort and Joy

Christmas, season of rejoicing, is with us once again. As we hear, in song and story, of that first Holy Night, of the Miracle and Message of the Manger, may it hearten and inspire us. Not only now, but on every day, let the hope and happiness, the peace and promise of Christmas spread its radiance through our lives. May the boundless blessings of this holy time be bestowed upon you and yours.
